1. The German community in Taiwan consists of about 75 persons, mostly former residents of Tientsin evacuated by the U.S. Navy before the Communist occupation. The new German emigres are in general quite well off. Many formerly resided at the hotel in Tsaooshan (Sozan) (120-38, 23-23). There are also a large number of German Catholic priests who were in Taiwan before the mainland arrivals, and some German women now married, or formerly married, to Chinese who were educated in Germany. Some of the women with dependents keep boarding houses for foreigners in Taipei.
2. Residing on Taiwan at present are 18 Russian emigres, 12 stateless persons of Russian origin, 1 Lithuanian, and 2 Ukrainians. Of this group, 29 reside at Taipei, 2 at Tainan, and 2 at Keelung.
